Forages

The original Barricade SLT was bred to handle your toughest ground, and many growers have maximized their economic return per acre under tough soil conditions by planting it. BrettYoung has built on the strengths of Barricade SLT to give you the new, improved, next generation salt product – Barricade II.

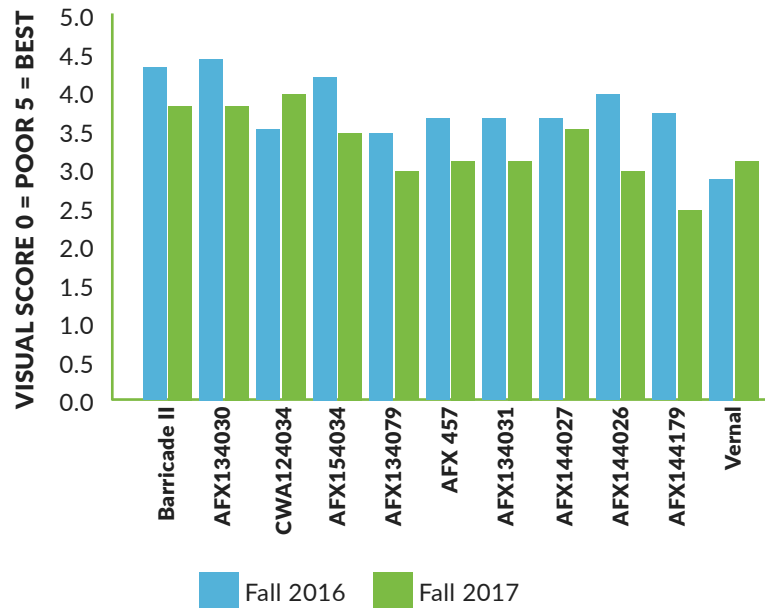

Barricade II is the newest generation of salt tolerant alfalfa selected for both improved germination tolerance and forage production under salinity stress. It equips alfalfa hay producers with the arsenal to combat salinity-related production losses and an opportunity to improve profits and manage their saline soils.

Protect your seed investment by planting Barricade II as a pure stand or component in a mixture.
